

Don't Test Me

Skyler Stecker

Sorry if I'm being way too honest
I'm tired of living on a broken promise
Since everything I do seems to come right back at me
Don't tell me what is right or what is wrong
When you don't even listen to my songs
Think you'll use my innocence against me
Don't you stress me

Why you getting mad with my opinion?
Seems that you are blinded to my vision
But you don't really care 'bout what I'm feeling
Never listen no

Tonight, don't test me, don't test me
My mind ain't ready, ain't ready
I don't wanna fight no more
I'm over giving up my soul
Tonight, don't test me, don't test me

You like to put me down to feed your ego
You say that I should listen to what you know
And if I don't agree it don't matter
All of my beliefs they don't matter

Why you getting mad with my opinion?
Seems that you are blinded to my vision
But you don't really care bout what I'm feeling
Never listen no

Tonight, don't test me, don't test me
My mind ain't ready, ain't ready
I don't wanna fight no more
I'm over giving up my soul
Tonight, don't test me, don't test me

Who are you to lie like that
Who are you to act like that
Who are you to judge like that
Who are you, who are you, who are you, who?
Who are you to lie like that
Who are you to act like that
Who are you to judge like that
Who are you, who are you, who are you?

Tonight, don't test me, don't test me

Tonight, don't test me, don't test me
My mind, ain't ready, ain't ready
I don't wanna fight no more
I'm over giving up my soul
Tonight, don't test me, don't test me
