

Sleep On

Skylar Stecker

I know you've been hurt
But tell me who hasn't before
No you ain't the first
Acting like it don't matter no more

When you're deciding what you need
I'm desiring to hold you
Hold you
And while you're hiding what I see
Deep inside we know it's on you
All on you, so

Tell me if this is something we agree on
'Cause you should know this ain't something you can sleep on

And it don't change
Everybody's got things to say
If they were dealing with the same pain
They wouldn't stay, they'd walk away
And I still remain the me you know

When you're deciding what you need
I'm desiring to hold you
Hold you
And while you're hiding what I see
Deep inside we know it's on you
All on you, so

Tell me if this is something we agree on
'Cause you should know this ain't something you can sleep on
I know you're broken, but you ain't even gotta be strong
'Cause I've been open, there's nothing you can sleep on
