

Was Called Empire

Skylark

I'm a reborn in a land without God
With no one kind of life
I'm looking for a trace
Devastation of a race
There's no blood behind my eyes

All what remains
Is just the rain
That flows into rivers of Dale
Voiding the time

Was called empire of the thousand descend
For the world meant the hail of the shine
Came a day a race was born to slay
All that shown became decay
I remember the glory the tales of a victory
Now the master of season don't let the flowers breed

On the ruins of the past
A black bird flies around
Tryin' to get the imperial crown
Rivers of cry old sad memory goodbye
Beyond the wind of north

All what remains
Is just the rain
Wasted empire reveal me
Your unknown dark face

Was called empire of the thousand descend
For the world meant the hail of the shine
Came a day a race was born to slay
All that shown became decay
I remember the laughters of mighties at power
Now the treasures are lost a great sunset fades the flame
