

Feel this heart of mine
It's broken while you're away
Love is so divine
It gives me the will to stay

I suffer alone now without you is not the same
You said its forever but the pain is just the same

It's over in my head
you're memories inside
Still I try to find
It's over in my head
your memories inside
Still I try to find

You say its hard to find A love that can't change always Now walking in this line without a word to say

I suffer alone now without you is not the same
You said its forever but the pain is just the same

Let's talk again and again until we meet Let's take it slow maybe this is what we need when you say you don't need anymore of this complication
When you start to pretend Then life is moving on when you say you don't need anymore of this same addiction
When you start to pretend
That life is moving..
Life is moving on..