

Dreams

Slaves

I still have dreams
Of waking up with her
When you're with me
I miss the way she'd run from gravity
Had my soul at seventeen
I wonder if she thinks of me

Turn up like you hate me now
And three words never left your mouth
Break down and it's heading south
Whoa
Treat love like a burning home
Get out with what you own
Change mine when you change your tone
Whoa

Tell me that it's alright
Cause I don't wanna fall asleep
I don't wanna see the sunrise
Just tell me why

I still have dreams
Of waking up with her
When you're with me
I miss the way she'd run from gravity
Had my soul at seventeen
I wonder if she thinks of me

Does it almost seem Unbelievable
That we only speak
In necessity?
And at times we're both
Hypocritical
Curiosity
Outweighs the jealousy

Tell me that it's alright
Cause I don't wanna fall asleep
I don't wanna see the sunrise

Tell me that it's alright (alright)
Cause I don't wanna fall asleep (asleep)
I don't wanna see the sunrise
Just tell me why

I still have dreams
Of waking up with her
When you're with me
I miss the way she'd run from gravity
Had my soul at seventeen
I wonder if she thinks of me

If I'm chasing down a ghost
I'll make sure to be light on my feet
I surrender to it slowly

I still have dreams
I still have dreams

I still have dreams
When you're with me
I wonder if she thinks of me

(Run from gravity)
(Had my soul at seventeen)
If she thinks of me
(Run from gravity)
Me (Had my soul at seventeen)
Me
