

Say
Say it's true and say
Both hearts won't break
Only mine will

Wait
Why can't you just wait
Hold on to me
Until the love runs empty

I know you what you're waiting on
Waiting on an easy exit
You're not who you say you are
Not even who I expected

You're in denial
If you're still thinking you can change
I should've known, way that you feel would fade away
Our love, our love

Know what you do to me
Enough's enough
God I'm hoping you choke on
The promise you broke I'm
Not letting you if you come to close
You'd normal call up
But you put your walls up
Don't let me do this alone

I know you what you're waiting on
Waiting on an easy exit
You're not who you say you are
Not even who I expected

Looking for an easy way out of it
Habitual entropy

What changed your mind
The moment you close your eyes
Do you see our demise
In white lies and exit signs

What changed your mind
The moment you close your eyes
Do you see your demise
In white lies and exit signs

I know you what you're waiting on
Waiting on an easy exit
You're not who you say you are
Not even who I expected
