

Secrets

Slaves

Mixing the signals
Hitting a personal low
Feeling so dismal
I should be letting it go

And now we're so far gone
We don't know who to blame
Can't work out a way to win
Just mixing the signals
Where do you stand?
What do you say?

I'm missing somebody standing in front of me

It's so silent from all your secrets
We're both dying to escape this feeling
I know that you're buried in problems
I'll carry the weight
Baby be honest
Before it's too late
Silent from all your secrets

You can scream them out to me
Scream them out to me
Scream them out to me
Scream them out to me

And now we're so far gone
We don't know where to turn
I guess we're gonna let it burn
Just mixing the signals
Where do you stand?
What do you say?

I'm missing somebody standing in front of me

It's so silent from all your secrets
We're both dying to escape this feeling
I know that you're buried in problems
I'll carry the weight
Baby be honest
Before it's too late
Silent from all your secrets

You can scream them out to me
Scream them out to me
Scream them out to me
Scream them out to me

There's an ocean between us
With a rising tide
It's getting hard to remember
That I'm on your side

It's so silent from all your secrets
We're both dying to escape this feeling
I know that you're buried in problems

I'll carry the weight
Baby be honest
Before it's too late
