

The Hearts of Our Broken

Slaves

All this love in my bones it's hard for me to speak and your words mean less now when you talk to me

All I ever wanted was rushed Gave into my addictions when all I wanted was love a few words spoken, but I'm still broken (broken)

You left me bruised and broken
My heart is black and blue
I stand alone on this lonely road
You left me bruised and broken
My heart is black and blue
and every time that I look in my mirror
I give right into you

Broken people like you, like me we are the ones who can't ever seem to carry whole

For all the way with all our holy peace
We know we sleep but why do we stay

You left me bruised and broken
I stand alone on this lonely road
You left me bruised and broken
and every time that I look in my mirror
I give right into you

I search for a new light
it means our time
through conscience we'll break every time they try to box me in
when they box me in

I stand alone on this lonely road
and every time and every time that I look in my mirror
I give right into you
