

The Young and Beyond Reckless

Slaves

..selfish strong as this dreams
I forgive and forget, yet the truth still stays
The lies are all we hear and the words are hard to swallow
The leaders get killed, we're never fulfilled, yet we follow (we all follow)

In the back of the life we know
But the hearts keep letting go
In the back of the life we know
Our hearts still let go

Too many times, I've watched this crash and burn
I'm the fork in the road
we made the wrong turn
we made the wrong..

This time enough to talk
Oh the story be amended
When no one wants to dream, the only one
Well it just mean I
This will never survive
So be young in heart, ... collide

In the back of the life we know
But the hearts keep letting go
In the back of the life we know
Our hearts still let go

Too many times, I've watched this crash and burn
I'm the fork in the road
We made the wrong turn
we made the wrong..

Don't you know I'm sick of this bullshit
It's like I'm stuck in the ocean
Take it away to the open
Giving it a day I'll be hoping for someone to rescue me
Let me put a message in a bottle (to whom it may concern)
A note to self kid, you'll probably never learn
These wounds are self inflicted (you're drowning yourself)
The focus is hard as your heart chooses heaven or hell
