Dramatic

Slayyyter

I wear blue velvet in the night
You're already in love, so am I
But I can feel the tension with you and I
Do I have to be polite?

One little sip of poison, if you like
Baby, I'm the devil in disguise
Let me pull the trigger on your mind
Make you swallow all your pride

I smoke my cigarette with passion, I can tell he's addicted to my fashion
Let him do lines with me in the Hamptons
Uh, I'm faithful to whoever's asking, can you keep a secret while we're danc ing
In my Deco million-dollar mansion?

Ooh, don't be dramatic
Just say the word, and you'll have it
Ooh, don't be dramatic
Leaving alone would be tragic

I'll give you everything that you want
Touch you in the way that she won't
Love you in the way that she don't, that she don't

Ooh, don't be dramatic
Just say the word, and you'll have it

Dirty secrets that I hide
You know I think about you by her side
The things I wanna tell you all the time
Hoping you could read my mind

I know it's criminal to love you
I know I got a man, but you could be my lover
I fantasize about us playing undercovers
Dirty secrets, baby, no one can uncover, -er, -er

I smoke my cigarette with passion, I can tell he's addicted to my fashion
Let him do lines with me in the Hamptons
Uh, I'm faithful to whoever's asking, can you keep a secret while we're danc ing
In my Deco million-dollar mansion?

Ooh, don't be dramatic
Just say the word, and you'll have it
Ooh, don't be dramatic
Leaving alone would be tragic

I'll give you everything that you want
Touch you in the way that she won't
Love you in the way that she don't, that she don't

Ooh, don't be dramatic
Just say the word, and you'll have it

Don't be dramatic, don't be dramatic

Don't be dramatic, don't be dramatic
Don't be dramatic, don't be dramatic
Don't be dramatic, don't be dramatic
