

HALF SOBER

slchld

Are you drinking with someone I don't know
I got me thinking
You lying to my face when it's clear as day
You sound like you're half-awake
Trying to avoid the fate of losing my trust

Am I sleeping?
I do feel the need for a distance
Because everything about you just drives
Me insane
I'm no longer the boy you've known before
Don't know when I'll be back

Till I can be sure
You're not causing more
Storms in my brain
I'm not like before
I'm done waiting for
Shoulders so cold
I'll dance in the rain
Till my feet get too sore

Are you out late
With someone I don't know
Smile on your face
As you say the same things
That you first said to me
Like how we were meant to be
So many words I wish you could take back

I sink into my bed
Sheets pulled over my head
Cause letting you go is the thing I most dread
Wish that I could rewind it all
Everything still reminds me of you, of you

Are we finally free?
I'm sure we're okay
Know that I'd still love you anyway

Are we finally free?
I'm sure there'll be days
Where I'm the one that's drunk and saying hey

Till I can be sure
You're not causing more
Storms in my brain
I'm not like before
I'm done waiting for
Shoulders so cold
I'll dance in the rain
Till my feet get too sore

Till I can be sure
Storms in my brain

I'm done waiting for
Shoulders so cold
Till my feet get too sore

Till I can be sure

I'm done waiting for
Shoulders so cold
