Been a long way since we ended
We tried
You thought that I'd be wasted

Well the truth is
I am over you
You said I took your time
Baby, how about mine?
Disregarding everything I say
As if there's any other way

I find no need for a bittersweet ending
Everything was real
Your jealousy was out of control
Speaking like everything was so
Controversial and I've been way too tired
My schedule looking like it's way too tight

I thought you had your own goals
I was gone for a minute
Whole lotta phone calls be ringing
When I'm trying to work and I'm honing my game
I trusted that you'd be the same
Sculpting or whatever you have been doing
I hope that this love was a lesson for you

Why you be tripping?
Why you be tripping? It's already over
Girl, begging won't do you good
You won't be understood
Someday maybe you'll learn what you did
Unfortunately we cannot undo

Save all your words for the next guy
Next guy, next guy
Next guy, next guy, yeah
Someday maybe you'll learn what you did
There are things we cannot undo

It's funny how I get called crazy
The moment I stop being your lady
You calling me jealous is funny
When you were the one up
Checking my phone at night
It's really so stupid (Stupid)
We been through it all just to lose it
If I could go back wouldn't choose it
Excuse it, confuse it for love that it's not

How could say to me?
That this shit was meant to be, no
Lying so bad
Thought I'd been had
Twisted and sad
Times
Foolish for making you mine
Surely I'm outta my mind

Can't press rewind
Can't press rewind, no
