

Rhythms of Class

Sleaford Mods

Well, come on, ya'll
It's time to get down to the one, two, three and four
Well, don't take long
Bring your friends along
And we'll get them moves and more
Well, come on, ya'll
It's time to get down to the one, two, three and four

Everybody knows when the door still says it's closed
That it opens out for lots of fuckin' others
The signs flip 'round on string
The lights beam down, that's it
Serving up double quiche in the gutters
The hard bodies look at the competition as
It passes near the coffee shop's window
The bracket's up, it's thick
Like a good lipstick
It's the rhythms of class and it's 'ere though

The mazes in the courtyard trimmed and dense
Spitting out purple haze from the hoses
The mazes in the courtyard laugh like fuck
At the people who don't win 'cause they noses
The channel carries hope, mobility or the rope
Carrying the new money from one area to another
You go from fry-ups on the street to Yeezys on the green
Eating sourdough with eggs, yes, my brother

And oh
That's how they're living now in China
That's how they live wherever satellites can't bring these pictures home
And oh
That's how they're living now wherever
That's how they're living everywhere we think it's even worse than home

It's nearly here I think
Between rich
Between the stink
As the gap disappears in the papers
The scene is set like cheese
But the gulf stream doesn't breeze
So the cheese whiffs like a tiny tears, no takers

We make it feel tough with the walk and bit of rough
And the disregard for any painful reason
I'm dim like a switch
And McDonald's stinks of Lynx
With that little tit who thinks he's here for women

And oh
That's how they're living now in China
That's how they live wherever satellites can't bring these pictures home
And oh
That's how they're living now wherever
That's how they're living everywhere we think it's even worse than home

Slender, swapped coke nights for Coke Light

Bender SPS that's slim
Positive and successful mission laid not stressful
Always a low light for the dim
