

Malagh Defiled

Slechtvalk

Maggots is what you were when I found you
Trampled and broken by
The tyranny of the man who sold all
For what he couldn't bear
We built a kingdom, a crown to man
Where none had to suffer but
It was all in vain when you bent the rules
In your favor

Battles I've fought to keep you safe from harm
I fought the winged darkness but
When I returned the old ways were gone
You forgot all I taught you
You betrayed the covenant we had made
And now it's you who suffers the consequence
Yet, I swore to keep my end of the deal
No matter what betrayal you'd do to me

What you refused to share
What you received for naught
I will let them take
Until you bend the knee

You were unworthy
When I found you chained and broken
By the tyranny I ended
Now you became the tyrants
I should let them destroy you
But I swore to spare you
If you were ever untrue

Together we vanquished
Together we fought
But now you'll endure
The fruit of your own rule

You are unworthy to receive my mercy
But I can't just let you be destroyed

Together we'll vanquish
Together we'll fight
When I return
You to Asternas restored

You betrayed the covenant we had made
And now it's you who suffers the consequence
Yet, I swore to keep my end of the deal
No matter what betrayal you'd do to me
