

Nemesis

Slechtvalk

AAA!!!

In a time of hatred and despair
I was blinded by the veil you had cast over me
I will not submit to the terror you'd unleash
If I don't do as you please
I have grown tired of you telling
What's best for me
For everytime I follow you
I find myself in misery
I will draw the line and you happen
To be on the other side of it

I am not afraid of you
But I'd rather not see your face
For every time I think of you,
I'm reminded of my disgrace

Every day I'm haunted
With what I could have done
But how can I defeat myself
For I am my own enemy?
This life has to end but
Not in the way that you might want it to
You try to persuade me to turn away
From what's best for me
But now I know I must continue
For I want to be freed of you
This is where it ends
And I no longer care
Whether you agree with me

You talk of freedom and glory
Yet, what makes you think I am a blind man?
I have seen the fruit of your wisdom
Its foul stench wakes me
From my pleasant dreams
What you think will set me free
Binds me down in misery
Once you may have ruled as king
But now suffer my new allegiance

I'll drown you, my nemesis
Your reign is ending. Now you will die
I'll drown you, my nemesis
Your reign is ending. Now you die

I am not afraid of you
But I'd rather not see your face
For every time I think of you,
I'm reminded of my disgrace

The battle has been won,
But I still have the memories
Of all I have done, you were my worst enemy
But now I'm free to turn into a different man
Than I otherwise would have been

The memories fade with every choice I make Differently and even if I fail
You're no longer controlling me
And one day I'll forget you
