

It's been a long year

I feel weighed down
By the thoughts in my head I try to keep
But I'm so far
From the place where I thought that I would be

I'm getting lost here
I'm still chasing shadows from your glow
I'm getting lost here
Overthinking everything I know

Woah woah
I'm gonna need you here tonight
Woah woah
I feel like I'm losing sight

I've been trying to find my peace of mind
But it's so hard to hold onto
I've been digging so deep for something to keep me
Pulling myself through

I'm getting lost here
I'm still chasing shadows from your glow
I'm getting lost here
Overthinking everything I know

Woah woah
I'm gonna need you here tonight
Woah woah
I feel like I'm losing sight

So tell me again, is this the end
Or is it another night I'm broken
I'm begging for anything that I can get
To make sure no word goes unspoken

The pictures start to fade
Something lost along the way
I'll never let myself collapse again
With every word you fake
Another year a leap of faith
I'll never let myself collapse again

Woah woah
I'm gonna need you here tonight
Woah woah
I feel like I'm losing sight

So tell me again, is this the end
Or is this another night I'm broken
I'm begging for anything that I can get
To make sure no word goes unspoken

It's been a long year
