

Window

Sleep On It

Always feeling better when I carry less
In the city with the biggest shoulders I confess
That I don't know where I'm going
Burn my heart down to feel it hurting

You can be the hook I wish I never bit
While I'm caught up in a fist fight on a sinking ship
And I'm stuck here forever floating
On a reel that you'll never pull in

You were a window
I saw it all differently through you
Now I carry on quietly
I say, I say
I'll carry you with me
You say everything is gonna be okay

You were everything I wished that I could be
The world was heavy on your back and I could never see
The strength it took to keep from falling
While I'm out here forever calling

Your name. Just wishing that you would have stayed
By me, I miss you every day
Maybe I'll see you down the line
But god damn I miss when you were mine

You were a window
I saw it all differently through you
Now I carry on quietly
I say, I say
I'll carry you with me
You say everything is gonna be

Oh
Every word I've ever sold
Makes me feel like I'm on my own
And I'll never be the same without you here

You were a window
I saw it all differently through you
Now I carry on quietly
I say, I say
I'll carry you with me
You say everything

You were a window
I saw it all differently through you
Now I carry on quietly
I say, I say
I'll carry you with me
You say everything is gonna be okay
