

Gone Or Staying

Sleep Theory

I know I shouldn't call you but it's raining
And you keep sayin' that you're all alone
But I ain't with these games you keep on playin'
You gone or stayin'?
Make up your mind or let me go

I know I shouldn't call you but it's raining
And you keep sayin' that you're all alone
But I ain't with these games you keep on playin'
You gone or stayin'?
Make up your mind or let me go

You hide it well but I can tell by the look in your eyes
You were falling to pieces
And with a glance you let me dance with your greatest disguise
And it's leaving me sleepless

Back and forth you push and pull me
As I get lost in what we should be

I know I shouldn't call you but it's raining
And you keep sayin' that you're all alone
But I ain't with these games you keep on playin'
You gone or stayin'?
Make up your mind or let me go

You hide it well but I can tell by the look in your eyes
(Make up your mind or let me go)
And with a glance you let me dance with your greatest disguise
(Make up your mind or let me go)

If stars aligned we would be fine but that's only in time
And the clock is against me
It's by design, it's all a sign in and out of your mind
And I can't keep from thinking
I stand here just to fight for nothing
So far gone and you keep running

Ready, go
Nothing left to lose
Now you have to choose

I know I shouldn't call you but it's raining (Rainin')
And you keep sayin' (Sayin') that you're all alone (All alone)
But I ain't with these games you keep on playin' (Playin')
You gone or stayin? (Stayin')
Make up your mind or let me go

If stars aligned we would be fine but that's only in time
(Make up your mind or let me go)
