

Just A Mistake

Sleep Theory

Don't pretend 'cause we've been here before
One more fight to settle up the score
If we could say it straight, then we could end this war
But where's the fun if I can't make you cry anymore?

Pushing me, pulling me back

How could this ever go so wrong?
We're probably playing with fire
How could we keep it going strong for way too long?
I guess we're comfortable liars
Now let them watch us burn

Don't pretend that we can make this right
One more lap around my head tonight
We never give enough, but we can't give it up
With just the slightest touch, you keep me coming back like a d rug

Pushing me, pulling me back

How could this ever go so wrong?
We're probably playing with fire
How could we keep it going strong for way too long?
I guess we're comfortable liars
Now let them watch us burn

You keep saying it's over tomorrow, but you always follow me ho me
We both hate it, you're making me crazy, but it's better than b eing alone
There's no starting over, you're just a mistake that I can't ke ep from making again
We're stuck in this back and forth, and I don't want to know ho w it ends

How could this ever go so wrong?
We're probably playing with fire
How could we keep it going strong for way too long?
I guess we're comfortable liars

How could this ever go so wrong?
We're probably playing with fire
How could we keep it going strong for way too long?
I guess we're comfortable liars
Now let them watch us burn
