Sleeperstar

I can't take it
Go on and yell
Scream like you mean it
The drywall won't tell

I made you cry
You don't know
I will never get back
Back to the sunshine

These are only the details, the details
They don't mean a thing, they don't make a difference
These details, these details
They don't matter much if I love you enough

I saved your life
Now tell me why
I can't keep us alive
Will we ever survive?

Desperate times
Will call for measures sublime
Angels stuck in the sky

These are only the details, the details
They don't mean a thing, they don't make a difference
These details, these details
They don't matter much if I love you enough

Oh these details
These details
