Sleeping with Sirens

I scratch these scars into my skin to feel something
Feels like a weight dragging me down, I start to drown
I sink into oblivion, then start again
Come up for air before I drown
I won't back down

I haven't been the same since the last time you saw me
But you take your place of pick
Just like you're right back to haunt me
Lately I've been so fucking beyond me
I've been airing out all my dirty laundry

Upside down
Round and round
Upside down
Crashing down on me

I scratch these scars into my skin to feel something
Feels like a weight dragging me down, I start to drown
I sink into oblivion, then start again
Come up for air before I drown
I won't back down

Why do I always fall for the things that I don't need?
My stomach sinks
I scream down, my throat bleeds
Last time, the last trick
I'm done trying, no heartbeat
On my words, I'm choking
I can't stop, keep going

I scratch these scars into my skin to feel something
Feels like a weight dragging me down, I start to drown
I sink into oblivion, then start again
Come up for air before I drown
I won't back down

No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
Yeah!

No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
No hope, no wishing, is anyone listening?
