

I'll Take You There

Sleeping with Sirens

Even if there's nowhere left to go
I'll take you there, I'll take you there

And if it ever feels like there is nowhere left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I've watched myself struggle with this fear of falling down
Cuz I've seen a silhouette of me who is this stranger I've become

Who is this man that I've become?

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is nowhere left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I lost myself
I questioned if I had the strength to move
Cuz I get up and then I fall back down
I look up and there's nobody around
It's quiet and I hate the sound
So quiet and I hate the sound
How could I let myself come to this?
I'll take one more drink and then I'll be dismissed
I'm left to walk this world alone
I like it better on my own
For all the things I've done
Who is this man that I've become?

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is nowhere left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is nowhere left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there

I'll take you there
I'll take you there
And if it ever feels like there is nowhere left to turn
I'll take you there
Always be there
Please take me there
