

Under It

Slick Shoes

I should have loved you more my friend. I let you down. I said nothing

Time relentless charging forward always faster, never slower. Life proceeding ever onward so we must keep fighting harder

I was sure you would resist. So, I was a coward, I said nothing

Time relentless charging forward always faster never slower. Life proceeding ever onward so we must keep fighting harder

I should have loved you so much more. I could have love you so much more
