

I Bet You Feel The Same

Slim Dusty

Oh, darlin' darlin' hear my song,
Sung by a broken heart,
I love you and you love me too
So why should we be apart,
There's still the chance that our romance,
I'll take all the blame,
And unless I miss my guess
I bet you feel the same.

Oh hand in hand we schemed and planned
Our future wedding day,
Of a life or two beneath the moon
In a good old fashioned way,
Then trouble started and we parted
Caused each other pain,
I'm feelin' blue for the days we knew
And I bet you feel the same.

Do you remember that September?
Oh what a happy time,
Our love so true come smiling through,
And all the world was mine,
I long to greet you just to meet you
And let me explain,
And if we try we'll still get by
And I bet you feel the same.
I bet you do, I do.

Oh, darlin' darlin' hear my song,
Sung by a broken heart,
I love you and you love me too
So why should we be apart,
There's still the chance that our romance,
I'll take all the blame,
And unless I miss my guess
I bet you feel the same.
