

Even Though

Sloan

Somewhere deep inside
I could see you there
And even though you lied
I don't really care

Day turns to night
It's never enough, no, no
How many times
It's never enough, no, no
Promising you'll try
Well, it's just enough to let you get by

And you kept asking why
And it's not really fair
But all that you deny
Is more than you can bear

Fading to light
It's never enough, and no, no
Look into your eyes
It's never enough, and no, no
You say you're alright
And that's just enough to let you get by

Day turns to night
It's never enough, no, no
How many times
It's never enough, no, no
Look into your eyes
It's never enough, no, no
Promise that you'll try
Even though you lied
Even though you lied
