

Take It Easy

Sloan

It's no use crying, 'cause no one's buying it
You're driving everybody insane
There's no believing, when you're deceiving
And pushing everybody away
Cut the past, just have a blast
And start some living today

Take it easy, crush it up and throw it away
Take it easy, build it up and start it again
Take it easy, take it easy

The world won't wait but it's not too late
To get yourself into the race
Count the stars, and the cards
And deal yourself that ace
Buck the trend that you depend on
And took the devil in the face

Take it easy, crush it up and throw it away
Take it easy, build it up and start it again
Take it easy, take it easy
Take it easy
