

On My Mind

Slothrust

You're on my mind again and I don't know why
Might be the seasons changing, I see it in the sky
You remind me of the summer, I know you dig that heat
But you're so cold in memory, I accepted defeat
I used to feel so lonely in my parents' house
You said you knew the feeling, I wish we could go back there now

I gave you my favorite sweater, I was afraid you'd think it was cheap
But you didn't think anything-you put it on and went to sleep

And I don't know why you're coming up in my mind again
I thought that time would make things fade away
But today I'm thinking about way back when
Wish we could start again

You used to kiss me with candy in your mouth, you know I loved that taste
It's been a bunch of years now but there's something about you I just can't replace
I'm reading your letters, so much left to say
But they stayed in the closet, pretended it was okay

And I don't know why you're coming up in my mind again
I thought that time would make things fade away
But today I'm thinking about way back when
Will this ever end?

And I don't know why you're coming up in my mind again
I thought that time would make things fade away
But today I'm thinking about way back when
Wish we could start again
