

Once More For The Ocean

Slothrust

I sat in front of the ocean
I was looking for you
The sky is collapsing
All I see is blue
I've forgotten the question
The matter is slack
It has no direction
All I see is black

Everybody says
That they want some, want some
I am getting sick
Of people talking so much
Hold me underwater
Not afraid of drowning
The light is everywhere

And I'm staring at the sun
Tripping into the void
I don't mind it down here

Everybody says
That they want some, want some
I am getting sick
Of people talking so much
Hold me underwater
Not afraid of drowning
The light is everywhere

I'm reversing the potion
The next curse is on you
Consuming the castle
It ain't nothing new
I'm erasing the goblins
The matter is slack
The trolls are all trobbling
All I see is black

Everybody says
That they got some, got some
I am getting sick
Of people talking so much
Hold me underwater
Not afraid of drowning
The light is everywhere

And I'm staring at the sun
Tripping into the void
I don't mind it down here

Everybody says
I am getting sick
Hold me underwater

Not afraid of drowning

And I'm staring at the sun

Everybody says
I am getting sick
Hold me underwater

Everybody says
I am getting sick

Everybody says
That they want some, want some
I am getting sick

Everybody says
That they want some, want some
I am getting sick

Everybody says
I am getting sick
Of people talking yeah
