Dear Me

Slushii

Dear me, it's okay to shed a tear once in a while
All these moments spent with her stretch on for miles
You've been through this hell and lived to tell the tale
Hold on tight, your stories waiting to set sail

Dear me, I'm coming undone
I feel the ground beneath me feet begin to crumble
To the sound of the ensemble in our dreams
Dear me, I'm putting to rest
I'll never let you slip away
The thought of you will never fade
As long as you're here, I'm okay

Dear me, it's okay to shed a tear once in a while
All these moments spent with her stretch on for miles
You've been through this hell and lived to tell the tale
Hold on tight, your stories waiting to set sail

Dear me, I'm coming undone
I feel the ground beneath me feet begin to crumble
To the sound of the ensemble in our dreams
Dear me, I'm putting to rest
I'll never let you slip away
The thought of you will never fade
As long as you're here, I'm okay

Take my hand, I will never fade away
Bring it up, bring it up now
I'm going down faster than the wind carries me
