

Pick Yourself Up

Slushii

Befriending the voices in my head, they're all I have Lost in the unknown but I know they'll be coming back
I won't let the bridges burn, no I won't slip away
Yeah, we're just getting stronger, we don't need to be afraid

Pick yourself up, it's only the beginning
Our future has millions of stories left unwritten
And they'll tell your legend for years after you've risen
So open your eyes and be the savior we know you are

I'll keep saying that just till my hair is bright and gray
And we hold on hope that you'll return to us one day
Trapped in isolation but my soul will never break
Just wait a little longer and we'll be okay

Pick yourself up, it's only the beginning
And they'll tell your legend for years after you've risen
So open your eyes and be the savior we know you are

We'll be coming back
