

Underwater

Slushii

I said you feeling soulless
I'm underwater again
They try to show me the surface
I'd rather drown in the end
I'll waste my walls and the ceiling
And never see me again
Until I'm hollow and empty
You should've been there, my friend

I said you feeling soulless
Where in the world ain't you now
Can't see myself in the mirror
I couldn't stand on my own
My brother told 'em in heaven
My eternal is lost
All of these tears have expired
My soul is yours and I'm gone

I said you feeling soulless
I'm underwater again
They try to show me the surface
I'd rather drown in the end
I'll waste my walls and the ceiling
And never see me again
Until I'm hollow and empty
You should've been there, my friend

You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend

You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
You should've been there, my friend
