

Make Like A Dream & Die

Smallpools

Oh, did I play it right?
I took that midnight flight and
I don't know where I might land

Oh, my amorphous life
Will I see you one more time?
As we roll with these changing tides, yay

Oh, oh how time lies
It tells me the truth then it's winking its eye
Oh, how time lies

Been a million people said a lot of goodbyes
And now they're all past lives (all past lives)
Memories will fade in the back of your mind
But then they last sometimes (last sometimes)
Shedding my skin, begin again, make like a dream and die
Time will tell you, bet it will, but better be careful
Cause you know time lies (you know time lies)

Digging through this closet, I never know what I may find
Growing like the oak tree that we always used to climb
There's only one-way outta here, so hey, can you give me a ride?

Oh, oh how time lies
It rides likes the wind as it whispers goodbye

Been a million people said a lot of goodbyes
And now they're all past lives (all past lives)
Memories will fade in the back of your mind
But then they last sometimes (last sometimes)
Shedding my skin, begin again, make like a dream and die
Time will tell you, bet it will, but better be careful
Cause you know time lies (you know time lies)

Let's lay it on the line
What I'm asking maybe
We can pick where we left off last time

One last time
(It's getting late and I'm in my head I'm not seeing straight)
For the last time, oh-wo-oh
The last time
