

the answer

Smallpools

And I don't know just what I'm looking for
But I hope I might find it in you
Where should we go? Are we even on track?
I don't care as long as skies are staying blue

I don't even know what I'm looking for, looking for Where'd my money go? Is it night or is it morning?
Is there something more that I'm living for, living for?
I'm not even sure if I care about the answer
If I care about the answer

But still I think that I can find a better place
Somewhere I can go to let the time just fade away
But I don't, no I don't care about Anything, everything, here and now

I don't even know what I'm looking for, looking for Where'd my money go? Is it night or is it morning?
Is there something more that I'm living for, living for?
I'm not even sure if I care about the answer
If I care about the answer

Got time on my side
Gonna leave it all behind
And take a holiday
Give my mind a mental break

I don't even know what I'm looking for, looking for Where'd my money go? Is it night or is it morning?
Is there something more that I'm living for, living for?
I'm not even sure if I care about the answer
If I care about the answer
