

Radioactive Mother (Lover)

Smash Into Pieces

I'm a vagabond, a cowboy from the desert
I used to be all sand and stone but now you rock my microphone
(wowowow)
When I laid eyes on you I thought you were too pretty
To leave you standing all alone, I felt the need to take you home (wowowow)

But you say that I'm not your kind of a man
That I don't understand

You got me feeling like a radio
Like a radio
Like a radioactive mother...
That is why I have to dance on my own
Feeling bad to the bone
Like a radioactive mother...
You got me feeling like a radioactive mother lover

So the times are new and so are you my lady
It used to be a different game, I'm still the same, I'm a manly man (like Chuck Norris)
Are you riding in the land of great confusion
I don't know how to make you mine, won't take your no, you're way too fine (wowowow)

But you say that I'm not your kind of a man
That I don't understand

You got me feeling like a radio
Like a radio
Like a radioactive mother...
That is why I have to dance on my own
Feeling bad to the bone
Like a radioactive mother...

Would it kill you to give a guy like me a chance?
Would I kill you if you refused me your last dance?

You got me feeling like a radio
Like a radio
Like a radioactive mother...
That is why I have to dance on my own
Feeling bad to the bone
Like a radioactive mother lover
You got me feeling like a radioactive mother lover
