

A Storm Is Coming

Smile Empty Soul

Run in circles again
The walls are closing in
A storm is coming my friend
The loss of everything

Locked up in this cage a time before
You've stolen something
Take it all away and threaten more
But I'm not broken

I believe in something
Nothing you could ever do will break me down

Run in silence again
My back against the wind
A storm is coming, the end
The loss of everything

Locked up in this cage a time before
You've stolen something
Take it all away and threaten more
But I'm not broken

I believe in something
Nothing you could ever do will break me down
You believe in nothing
Never understand why you can't break me now

Locked up in this cage a time before
You've stolen something
Take it all away and threaten more
But I'm not broken

I believe in something
Nothing you could ever do will break me down
You believe in nothing
Never understand why you can't break me now
