

Grey and golds are everything
And only in this wasted town, will you see claws and crowns
Who am I if not a king
And only if I drown you out
Will I get higher now

I heard you call my name, oh oh
You tell me everybody looks the same

I'm not your savior
Not your saving grace
Hold the light up can you see yourself now
I'm just a stranger
Another empty face
Turn my back after I push you to the ground
Oh oh
There's a coldness in me
There's a coldness in me

Cold as ice and broken dreams
And only if I tear you down, will I have what I need
Search it all with rescue teams
But only if I drown you out, will I get off my knees

I heard you call my name, oh oh
You tell me everybody looks the same

I'm not your savior
Not your saving grace
Hold the light up can you see yourself now
I'm just a stranger
Another empty face
Turn my back after I push you to the ground
Oh oh
There's a coldness in me
There's a coldness in me

I'm not your savior
Not your saving grace
I'm just a stranger
Another empty face

I heard you call my name, oh oh
You tell me everybody looks the same

I'm not your savior
Not your saving grace
Hold the light up can you see yourself now
I'm just a stranger
Another empty face
Turn my back after I push you to the ground
Oh oh
There's a coldness in me
