

We All Fall Down

Smile Empty Soul

Memories are silent like a broken radio
I don't know if I'd recall it all or if it's just for show
I started going crazy so I packed up for the road
I can't tell if I'm alone or if I'll ever make it home

And something in the air tonight
Is telling me it just ain't right, I believe
Yeah, I believe

And we all fall down
The only thing that matters now is getting off the ground
And we all come round
I've been lost a million times
But find my way somehow

Well, everything is broken now and all I know are chords
I've been missing all the memories of the things that are no more
This life will make you want to run and scream out to the Lord
And it's in these shaky moments that you find yourself a door

And something in the air tonight
Is telling me it just ain't right, I believe
Yeah, I believe

And we all fall down
The only thing that matters now is getting off the ground
And we all come round
I've been lost a million times
But find my way somehow

I'll find my way somehow
Somehow I'm lost and found
I'll find my way somehow
Somehow I'm lost and found

And we all fall down
The only thing that matters now is getting off the ground
And we all come round
I've been lost a million times
But find my way somehow

I find my way somehow
I find my way somehow