

It's like we've done everything reversed
How I wish I hadn't met you first

Can you know love when you're seventeen?
Ten years back we were so naive

Is there a time
Is there a time and place for us?
Is there a world where we would do it different, love?
Can you forgive me for everything I said my love?
Maybe in a different world
In a parallel universe

Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Your still in my
Still in my
Still in my soul

Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Your still in my
Still in my
Still in my soul

While all our friends they were wild and free
All you had it was eyes for me

Now everyone they are settling down
While you and me are falling out of love

Is there a time
Is there a time and place for us?
Is there a world where we would do it different, love?
Can you forgive me for everything I said my love?
Maybe in a different world
In a parallel universe

Wherever you go
Wherever you go
Your still in my
Still in my
Still in my soul

Your still in my soul
Your still in my soul
Your still in my soul
