

Remember Me

Smokepurpp

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Feelings, I won't show any other

There's people I know that don't have any other

Wherever I go, they won't see me again

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

I see the change in people, too

I'm deeper than the way I move, so I've seen them comin'

With the fuck shit, but they above me, no they don't love you

They talk a lot but, I'm on my own shit

Covered in gold shit, covered in gold like Devil's Double

I always seem to find myself in trouble

Feelings, I won't show any other

There's people I know that don't have any other

Wherever I go, they won't see me again

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name

Remember my words, don't remember my name
