

Give Her Up

Smokey Robinson & The Miracles

Give her up, go on and give the girl up cause she'll only hurt you

Take your love like she did mine and then she'll desert you wel l

Walk away and leave your heart in pain

Walk away and leave you to go insane

She's untrue, yeah; you could do everything you can for her

Still she's gonna leave you cause she's ungrateful

How can I convince you she's gonna leave you on the shelf

And that she'll never love anybody

She will never love anybody

She will never love anybody but herself

So, give her up

You'd better give her up cause

She just won't do right

Let her go, you'd better let go cause

She won't treat you right

Don't you know you'll go to her one day

Don't you know she'll turn and walk away

She's untrue, untrue, untrue

On second thought, oh,

Don't give her up,

Cause, I know I'll take her back

Whenever you give her up

Even though she's done me wrong

Cause I know the girl's all alone

(I'll take her back whenever you give her up, give her up...)

I'll take her back, I'll take her back...
