

It's over

Snak the Ripper

[Verse 1: Snak The Ripper]

I used to think we were a fucking team
My best friend, I felt like I could tell you anything
We had each other's backs through ups and downs and all of that
But eventually I noticed it was all an act
Start hanging with a different crew
Acting like a different you
Acting like you just forgot, all the shit that we went through Cause nothing lasts for ever
At least that's what they tell us
You used to show me love but then you started getting jealous
Yo what happened to that love though? I thought that we were down
I heard rumors you were talking shit when I wasn't around
I can't believe the shit you're saying after everything we had Ayo the crazy thing about it though, is I ain't even mad
But you act like you're above me
Your true colors are ugly
Never gonna be like you and I guess that's probably why they love me
But to me this shit just don't make sense
What it could have been we'll never know
No more time for fake friends, I guess I gotta let it go

[Hook: Jaclyn Gee]

Slowly inhale
And watch it float away
Watch it float away
It's over
Slowly exhale
And watch it float away
Watch it float away
It's over

[Verse 2: Snak The Ripper]

I used to think we were a perfect combination
We could communicate to work through complications
We used to talk so much, and all the conversations
That we had were good but then it stopped with no explanation
And then you started running around, telling everyone my biz
I still don't understand how the fuck you got as dumb as this
I gave you all my trust, you took advantage of that
And then when I least expected it you stabbed me in the back
You used to be my homie
Now you act like you don't know me
It didn't take to long to show me
You're a completely fucking phony
I guess I should have never let my guard down so easily
It's hard to believe cause you said you believed in me
Think about all them times we had I thought we were unstoppable
Thinking about it is kinda sad I thought this would be possible
To me this shit just don't make sense
What it could have been we'll never know
No more time for fake friends, I guess I gotta let it go

[Hook: Jaclyn Gee]

Slowly inhale
And watch it float away
Watch it float away

It's over
Slowly exhale
And watch it float away
Watch it float away
It's over
