There is no..., there is no day where it ends
No one's got a day, you can't take the liberty that it ends on this day
Because on the date it ends for him, it might end for you on the next day in a different way
Do you get what I'm sayin'?
There is no day where you're sayin', "I'm out now"
Like, even..., even being on me, do you get what I'm sayin'?

After all, do you think before when it starts with forty and ends with five?

Do you get what I'm sayin'?

That's a, that's the realest

Ten die, this-, yeah, ten go to jail, do you get what I'm sayin'?

And I'll be honest I-

Ten settle down and get married and have babies and have kids and get new jobs and du-du-du-du-du

Five of them rap, you get me?

And you're left with five of them to scatter 'round and start a business and try and take care of everyone else

Do you get what I'm sayin'?

Like, you start with forty and you end with life five, two

Name me one story where a gang started with forty niggas and forty niggas, thirty years later were together

Name me one story

So if there, i-if the percentage is so low, like nought point two percent

Do you get what I'm sayin'?

If the percentage is so low, why are these things so fashionable to us?

Why do we wanna do these things?
