

Remember

Sneaky Sound System

I remember the second chance
The room you feel, give yourself a moment to relax
In the space between you and I
Moment upon moment, gone in the blink of an eye

Do you remember, I would go the distance
Like a river, watch me as I pull away
All the rumors, don't you know the difference
I remember how we made what we made

Keep a light on, tell yourself it's made for one
Keep a light on, just for kicks
Keep it loose, try and win a second chance
I guess we got the timing wrong and it hurts like a barb-wired fence
Do you remember, I can be demanding
I am a woman, watch me as I pull away

All the rumors, tell yourself it's nothing
This is real, it's how we made what we made

And I guess we've seen it all
I don't know, we've walked this part before, that's the best of it yet

Don't tell me we were wrong from the start
Don't hide your heart away, so we can't get back to the sweetest part
Don't tell me we were wrong from the start
Don't hide your heart away, so we can't get back to the sweetest part

Don't tell me we were wrong from the start
Don't hide your heart away, so we can't get back to the sweetest part
