

Parisian Girl

Sniff 'n' the Tears

We get to sow the seeds of wisdom
We get to sow the seeds of pain
We get to try our hand at things that we don't understand
And then - we get to try it all again

Won't you be my Parisian girl
Won't you be my Parisian girl
Surrender the night to that city of light
And be my Parisian girl

Don't you think back to those quiet days we hid away
Don't you think back to that hubbub in the street
As we lay in that small room and loved away the hours
Ooh but the memories are so sweet

Won't you be my Parisian girl
Won't you be my Parisian girl
Surrender the night to that city of light
And be my Parisian girl

That night we walked down by the riverside
The river where a million dreams have drowned
Above us we could hear the angry boulevard
Below the river's secret sound

Won't you be my Parisian girl
Won't you be my Parisian girl
Surrender the night to that city of light
And be my Parisian girl
