

There Will Be Sunshine

Snoh Aalegra

Who amongst us will live for love?
Who will paint the picture of what's left of us?
Cause if they lie to the creator, then, who to trust?
I don't know
I don't know
Who amongst us will live for love?
Who will paint the picture of what's left of us?
Cause if they lie to the creator, then, who to trust?
Oh I don't know
Oh I don't know

These cloudy thoughts leave all this rain on my face
Heart full of winter keeps putting ice in my veins
Inside my voice there is a hurricane
Thunder and lightning
And title waves, oh

Cause there will be sunshine, tho the forecast is grey
Cause there will be sunshine, tho the forecast is grey
There will be sunshine
There will be sunshine
There will be sunshine, oh
There will be sunshine

There are questions for the answers, you don't have Deep inside me there are volumes so unrestored
I'll let you pose as my saviour
Help me lord, cause I don't know
Cause I don't know

These cloudy thoughts leave all this rain on my face
Heart full of winter keeps putting ice in my veins
Inside my voice there is a hurricane
Thunder and lightning
And title waves, oh

There will be sunshine, tho the forecast is grey
There will be sunshine, tho the forecast is grey, oh
There will be sunshine
There will be sunshine
There will be sunshine
See there will be sunshine

There will be sunshine
There will be sunshine
