

Horizon

Snow Ghosts

Silently across the hillside
I've been searching, I've been called
As the sun streams through the heather
I am humbled, as I crawl

It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart
It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart

You have bound me up in brambles
Even young thorns don't cut this deep
As I twist and turn, I tangle
Please draw me deeper, so I can weep

Just a kiss, a chrysalis of guilt and shame
Lead me closer to the light
Like a moth, I crave the brightest flame
Am I forgiven?
Have I lost sight?

It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart
It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart
It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart
It's all horizon, there's no dark
There's no shelter for this barren heart

Are we confession-bound
Are we confession-bound (it's all horizon)
Are we confession-bound (it's all horizon)
Are we confession-bound, confession-bound (barren heart)
Hold me closer I'm not dead (barren heart)
Hold me closer I'm not dead
I'm not dead
