

Take a Life

Snow Ghosts

You found me where the poppies grow
Where the river overflows
And left me with your heart
Left me with your heart

And you fell where the fallows run
Waiting for the dawn to come
And left me in the dark
Left me in the dark

For light, to take a life
For light, to take a life
To take a life

Hook your fingers to the wall
Proudly wear your crown of thorns
But leave me with the war
Leave me with the war

You could hide till the forest fell
Running, but the morning bell
Can't save us anymore
Save us anymore

For light, to take a life
For light, to take a life
To take a life
To take a life
