

Plans

Snowmine

No you're never gonna stop again.
You lost your faith you said, "No way! No way!"
Love, can you see how long it's been
Since you looked at me from outside in, through glass so thin?
Forgotten miles,
The more you know,
Direction.
You show your gold with no hand to hold
Yeah we've all been told
When you wish it back again, back again, back again,
Your trail runs cold.
Said you're never gonna love again
You threw your masks in the boat that sailed away, it sailed away.
But can you live without your plans?
That spoke out against the land that you've been traveling in.
Forgotten miles,
The more you know,
Direction.
You show your gold with no hand to hold
Yeah we've all been told
When you wish it back again, back again, back again,
Your trail runs cold.
To make sense of it all again
Yeah you try to forget by sealing the holes with cement.
You know the one that you miss the most?
They become the ghost left down below, down, down below.
