

Why Do I Still Have the Blues?

Snowy White

Got no complaints about the life I'm living
I'm content to walk in my own shoes
I ain't had too much trouble in my life
So why do I still have the blues?

Some people envy me my freedom
'Cause I can take any path I choose
It's true I've been living free and easy for most of my life
So why do I still have the blues?

A head's up in a lucky song so
Cause I've already paid all my dues
So I wonder why I still don't feel satisfied
Why I still have the blues?
Why do I still have the blues?

I don't know why I'm so discontented
I should be happy; I've been working my own groove
But something in my heart won't let me lay down and rest
That's why I still have the blues
That's why I still have the blues
