

Henry

Soccer Mommy

Where Henry goes
I don't know
But I wanna see the places in his dreams he seems to love

And when he looks
To the sky
There's a city in his smile and there's an ocean in his eyes

Where Henry goes

I just wish
I knew his mind
So I could follow him to far off places that he's been sometime s

But he's too gone
To open up
Just like punching walls, it always hurts 'cause it never gives enough

With Henry's love

He won't ever love the way I did
But everybody's falling hard for him

'Cause Henry has
A laugh like fire
And it's spreading through the streets and burning on telephone wires

I don't know
Just what it is
But he's driving all the good girls bad with that evil smile of his

Oh Henry is

He won't ever love the way I did
But everybody's falling hard for him
He won't ever love the way I did
But everybody's falling hard for him
